

The accompanying International Exhibition on Thermoplastic Composites will present new lightweight concepts, material trends, innovative manufacturing technologies and related inspection methods for thermoplastic composites.

New results in the fields of

- Raw Materials
- Textile & Fibre Technology
- Semi-Finished Products
- Production Technologies & Machinery
- Simulation & Modelling Tools
- Composite Structures
- Joining Technologies
- Process Monitoring & Quality Control
- Materials Testing

Related to areas such as

- Aerospace & Civil Aviation
- Automotive Vehicles
- Oil & Gas
- Wind Energy
- Transport & Engineering

The exhibition will take place at the Bremen Congress Center (CCB) foyer close to the conference hall.

About 40 exhibitors and their visitors will find an excellent environment just in front of the conference lecture hall.

ITHEC

4th International Conference & Exhibition on Thermoplastic Composites

First Announcement Invitation for Exhibitors

30 – 31 October 2018
MESSE BREMEN, Germany

www.ithec.de

BREMEN
JOIN THE FUTURE.

The Conference

ITHEC is the first and unique expert conference focusing on new topics in structural thermoplastic lightweight constructions. The two day event covers the latest developments in high performance thermoplastic composite applications.

The invitation to attend ITHEC is directed at executives and researchers from industry (providers of raw materials for composite components, providers of manufacturing equipment, component manufacturers, end users) as well as institutes and universities in charge of these topics who are interested in an intensive exchange on the achievements in the industrial sector and the transfer of R&D results into industrial products.

ITHEC Conference focuses on new results on

- Thermoplastic Composite Lightweight Structures
- Manufacturing & Process Technologies
- Simulation & Modelling
- Raw Materials & Standardisation
- Process Automation & Production Machinery
- Process Monitoring / Material Quality & Testing
- Eco Balance & Recycling

ITHEC is the premium event to meet the leading international specialists, to share their expertise and to strengthen the business cooperations. About 400 attendees will gather to discuss the current results presented in several oral sessions and one additional poster session. A related Call for Papers will be launched in November 2017. Submission deadline for abstracts will be mid of February 2018. Details on the schedule and the procedure will be available on the event homepage soon.

ITHEC 2016 in Retrospect

You may get a picture of the event from a video clip on the homepage. A survey among ITHEC 2016 delegates confirmed the following results:

Which of the following regions do you come from?

In which sector do you work?

How do you estimate the general structure of the conference?
